The flag ship Hartford had arrived at Hong Kong, and reported that the Imperialists had beaten 6,500 rebels, causing them to retire.

The troops at Yanchon, the capital, took possession of the city in the absence of the Governor General, seized the persons of the Judge and Treasurer and tried to force them to memorialize the Emperor, to the effect that the troops were driven to revolt for want of pay and food.

NEW YORK, Aug. 28.

General Santa Anna has had Senor Dareo Mazuera arrested on charge of fraud in the purchase of the steamship Georgia. He charges that Mazuera exhibited to him a forged letter from Secretary Seward, urging him to come immediately to the United States as that Government was willing to aid him in behalf of Mexico. The damages are at $70,000.

NEW YORK, Aug. 28.

The Times New Orleans special says: The commission appointed by Gen. Baird to investigate the late riot, have completed their labors and their report will show that the first shot fired from a revolver, was by a white man at a procession of freedmen.—Twenty minutes then expired before any further disturbance took place. When the procession reached the place where the Convention was in session, the police interfered with it and attempting to make arrests, fired upon the freedmen who returned the fire.

A mob of citizens then joined the police and a great massacre commenced. It also shows that several policemen hid their badges so as not to be recognized and after entering the hall, they disregarded the white flag and fired indiscriminately upon unarmed members of the Convention and spectators. Some citizens wore badges indicating an organization. Those in the room then, with chairs drove the police and attaching party out and barricaded the doors. After the barricade was established, not a single person escaped unarmed, and about thirty were murdered.

While credit is given to the police for saving the lives of all who were in the building and are not dead, the force is found guilty of nearly all the murders that were committed. The evidence shows that the policemen killed freedmen when they could have arrested them without trouble, and that wounded negroes were thrown into carts and killed, while struggling to free themselves from the dead bodies which had been placed on top of them.

The commission will report that the riot was caused by bitter feeling on the part of the citizens and police towards the radical Unionists and freedmen. They will also report that it was preconcocted, inasmuch as it is in evidence that it was talked of previously for several days. It is the opinion of the commission that if the military had not appeared at the time that it did, the riot would have progressed to the extermination of all the Unionists and freedmen in the city.

The city press are attacking General Sheridan for what he reported in his official despatches, charging him with untruthfulness.

The Governor of Maryland met the party at Annapolis Junction.

At Baltimore they were received by citizens' committee and Mayor, and escorted by a detachment of troops from Fort McHenry. The streets were crowded, and there was considerable enthusiasm at various points as the President passed.

Gen'l Grant and Admiral Farragut were particularly the objects of observation, and received enthusiastic applause.

A Voice from the Eagles.

(Concluded)

Thursday, 23d.—We intended to leave North Haven as soon as our dance was over this morning, but our wind all left us and we were compelled to wait until 8 o'clock before we could get breeze enough to carry us through the Thoroughfare. When we had fairly started, the ladies (who had assembled on the shore to bid us good bye,) struck up a song, which they kept up until we were out of hearing. The next place on our route was Carver's Harbor, (Vinalhaven.) Near the entrance of this harbor we had another strike. Here the schooner was compelled to stay until 5 o'clock (3 hours) waiting for the tide to take her off the ledge. All the damage experienced was the loss of our kedge anchor. No blame was attached to the officers of the schooner, who used every precaution for the safety of the vessel and passengers. Our pilot had just left the vessel and said nothing about the ledge being there to obstruct the passage. While we lay here, a portion of our crew went ashore and engaged a hall, (used as a sail loft) and tried to see what could be done towards a dance, but after supper it began to rain very hard, so the ladies could not turn out, and we went in on our own hook, amusing ourselves in singing, clog-dancing, reels, music of all descriptions, &c., until midnight.—Some of the young men went aboard with us promising to get up a good time the next evening if we would stop, but we could not promise them until we knew what kind of a wind we were to have in the morning, so we separated for the night and retired.

Friday, 23d.—A vote was taken this morning to ascertain the minds of our party in relation to the course we should take next, and the majority were in favor of going to the fishing grounds, and then return to this harbor. This being a very rocky coast, we took a pilot, sailed out two or three miles and hove to. The wind was rather too strong to do much fishing, but we were not long in catching enough for a chowder, and we returned to the harbor.—Immediately after our return, the chowder was served, and was soon deposited in the stomachs of our hungry crew. The next thing on the docket was to clear up, put on our good clothes and prepare ourselves for the evening's amusement. We lay at anchor a short distance from the wharf, on account of a strong breeze blowing towards the shore, and when the small boat was hauled alongside, under charge of MERSERVEY, we put everything into it, and were soon landed on the wharf. Our campstools, water pail, instruments, and other traps which we wished to take with us, were TUCK(ed) into a big CASE, prepared for the occasion, and we soon harnessed ourselves into the TRACEY's (traces) and wended our way towards the hall, led by our Dutch Fenian and a WEBB-footed Yankee. Two of our boys who had partaken too freely of RICE were advised by the Surgeon to take a good dose of PERKINS' Pain Killer to relieve their pains. Others advised QUINN(ine) BAILEY's cordial, FOSTER's extract of Turpentine, &c. The argument upon this subject was closed by the return of the boat and the delinquents were soon by the side of those who were preparing for a dance in the hall. Some of the young men who wished to have a crowd there, had posted a notice around town during the day that there would be a free entertainment at Bowman's Hall by Eagle Fire Company, of Bangor, consisting of songs, banjo playing, stump speeching, &c. As these things were done the evening before, merely for our own amusement, they seemed to think that we intended to combine a concert with a dance. These notices drew a large crowd, about 40 of them being ladies, and we soon commenced to dance, and it was kept up until after 3 o'clock in the morning, when we returned home satisfied with everything, took a lunch and adjourned until breakfast was ready.

Saturday, 25th.—Took our breakfast at 7 o'clock, and sailed at eight, bound for Camden, on our way home. We had a fair wind and arrived at half-past eleven o'clock. We took a walk around town until 1 o'clock. Upon returning to the wharf, we were called together by the roll of BRANNIGAN's drum, and upon inquiry being made by HAYNES and WASHBURN, who were in the lead, our Composition Irishman, (who had been poring WEBSTER's Dictionary) informed them that NORTON, (Clerk of the Co.) had got his "Cameron Obscurity" (camera obscura) ready to take all of our dog-types. So we grouped together upon the wharf for the purpose, and as soon as he was done with us, we went aboard, and with SAWTELLE, at the wheel, who seems to have had experience in turning a grindstone, started for home. We had a good breeze until we arrived off Sandy Point, where we met the Tow Boat 'Nautilus, which towed us up to Bangor, arriving at 9 o'clock. We landed at Fiske & Dale's wharf, where we met a large crowd, who had been drawn together by the sound of our drums and the reports of the gun. We then marched to the Engine House (leaving our baggage in MANNIGAN's charge) with our live pet perched upon a pole between two of our members in front, and separated, well pleased with our week's excursion.—The principal musicians upon this occasion were HALL, CARROW and PERKINS, they being the chief actors in comic dances, singing and playing, and the life of the whole party. To those who intend visiting the Island for pleasure, we say, don't forget the social town of North Haven, and, if you wish a good man to take you, call on Capt. S. S. Waldron, for with him you have, but to express your wishes, to be gratified so far as it is in his power.

SO-LOW CORN-NET.

The Danger and the Remedy.

The national House of Representatives under the last apportionment, would contain 242 members, if all the seats were full, and 122 members would constitute a majority. At the close of the last session, all but ten States were represented. These ten States were entitled to 50 representatives, and of these 39 are Copperheads, or Johnson men, which amounts to the same thing. It is easy to see that the Southern and the Copper-Johnson votes together will fall considerably short of a majority. But suppose for a moment that 33 of our loyal representatives should be replaced in the next Congress by open or secret foes. The 39 "spared monuments" reinforced by 33 others, worse than the first, and supplemented by 50 pardoned rebels would make up the tally to 122—a majority of the House. This body would unquestionably get together, and go through the form of organization. To be sure a minority of the House would have no moral or legal right to pass upon the admission of the Southern members, but the attempt would be made, and the President would be urged by the rebel press to recognize the body so constituted. Indeed it seems from expressions which have recently dropped from his lips, that he is fully prepared to take this dangerous course.

Under these circumstances, it would become the immediate duty of our representatives to impeach the President. He would of course reject the judicial authority of the Senate, for the same reasons which he would use in setting aside the legislative authority of the House. What would follow? Would the Northern people submit to see their representatives thrust aside, their authority contemned and defiled?

It is needless to ask that question. The gulf of anarchy and confusion towards which the obstinacy and obtuseveness of the President and the wickedness of his advisers are forcing us, may be avoided. The way toward this usurpation must not be left open. The consummation of the plot depends upon the return of 33 Copperheads in place of 33 Union men. This must not be. It could happen only through criminal apathy. Here in Maine, though our old opponents are working with fresh courage and abundant means, there is no danger of losing a single district; but we owe it to our friends in more doubtful States to give them a shining example. We must all go to the polls this year, and bury this newly hatched plot under a majority such as has never been seen before.—[Press.

GENERAL ITEMS.

—The credit, or discredit, of originating the Philadelphia Convention, is said to belong to Hon. Moses McDonald, of this State, a well-known copperhead politician. He was the only member of Congress from New England who voted for the Kansas-Nebraska bill in 1854—a bill which overthrew the Missouri Compromise and opened that rich territory to slavery if the border ruffians should be able to take it there. A fit tool with which to work for My Policy.

—All papers that oppose President Johnson's "policy" are lumped together by that gentleman, and defined as "a subsidized calumniating press."

Who subsidizes them? All the patronage of the government is in the hands of the President. The subsidizing is on the other side. A. J. wouldn't have a corporal's guard of supporters at the north, if he hadn't something to give. Even the copperheads would despise him too much to take him for their leader, so long as Vallandigham should live. They take him now only until they shall have squeezed their share of the offices out of him.

—The vast herd of buffaloes which darkened the Western plains a few years ago are fast disappearing, and some means will have to be adopted to keep the Indians from starving in consequence.

—A Troy fiend hired a little boy in Albany recently, and after having his life insured, took him to a solitary locality, where he attempted to murder him. The boy broke from him and reached home.

A STRONG TWINGE OF CONSCIENCE.—"Restitution," at Chicago, August 9, 1866, incloses fourteen thousand dollars, and writes to Mr. United States Treasurer—"Please accept this from one making his peace with God, and appropriate it to the use of the Government, as it justly belongs to the United States."

—A man in Hartford advertised recently that, on receipt of a certain sum, he would by return mail instruct any applicant how to make a fortune. His directions were: 'Peddle segars, half Havana and home-made, as I did, and always be ready to pick up a stray chicken.'

—The Boston Transcript suggests that Andrew Johnson, like Andrew Jackson, had now better be styled the "Hero of New Orleans."

—A certain newly elected Irish mayor, speaking of certain articles in a vivacious newspaper, observed—"I despise those underhand attacks. When I write an anonymous letter I always sign my name to it."

—An editor thus logically nudges his delinquent subscribers:—"We don't want money desperately bad, but our creditors do, and no doubt they owe you. If you pay us, we'll pay them, and they'll pay you."

—Loren Tracy of Newport, Vt., a respectable farmer and an unsuccessful oil speculator, became insane on account of his losses, and died in the Brattleboro' Insane Asylum a few days since.

What General Chamberlain Says.

"All must unite in demanding security for the future. We must have guaranties good and sufficient against any future attempt to destroy this Government whether in the exercise of a pretended right by open war or BY MORE ARTFUL AND INSIDIOUS ASSAULTS against the principles on which this Nation was founded. These are points we cannot yield without danger and dishonor; and WHEN THE SOUTHERN STATES SHALL HAVE COMPLIED WITH THOSE CONDITIONS IN GOOD FAITH, they will be in a condition to ask association and fellowship with the loyal commonwealths of the country which they deserted with such violence and scorn. UNTIL THAT TIME, in my judgment, it is wise to hold them in strict probation.

"We cannot go back to gather up the fragments of the Union as it was; we must now recognize the nation as it is, and make the Constitution what it should be."

CURSES COME HOME TO ROOST. We have heretofore re-produced some of the sweet sayings of our Democratic organ about President Johnson, last year—and would have been pleased to hear Emory read some of them last Thursday to the "democratic mass meeting." But singularly enough he seems to have entirely changed his opinions of the man who has inaugurated Vice President in 1865. We now offer a few elegant extracts from the New York leading organ of the Johnson party, taken from the files of last year. The New York World then said, and was approvingly copied by every Democratic (now Johnson) paper in Maine:

The drunken and beastly Caligula, the most profligate of all the Roman Emperors, raised his horse to the dignity of consul—an office that, in former times, had been filled by the greatest warriors and statesmen of the Republic—the Scipios, the Catos—by Cicero, and by the mighty Julius himself. The consulship was scarcely more disgraced by that scandalous transaction than is our Vice Presidency by the recent election. This office has been adorned in better days by the talents and accomplishments of Adams and Jefferson, Clinton and Gerry, Calhoun and Van Buren; and now to see it filled by this INSOLENT, DRUNKEN BRUTE, in comparison with whom even Caligula's horse was respectable!—for the poor animal did not abuse his own nature.

And to think that only one frail human life stands between this INSOLENT, CLOWNISH DRUNKARD and the Presidency! May God bless and spare Abraham Lincoln! Should this Andrew Johnson become his successor, the decline and fall of the American republic would smell as rank in history as that of the Roman empire under such atrocious monsters in human shape as Nero and Caligula.

All these Democrats and their "conservative" followers are now lauding this "insolent, drunken brute" to the skies, and he is the common leader of them and of the rebels who hope to get back to power.

Gov. Parsons, of Ala., when here, indignantly asked "if individuals were to be punished for a rebellion which it required a war of four years to suppress." Apparently not—under the Johnson rule—and as he says that rebel States can neither be punished nor kept from an immediate and unconditional return to power, we do not see as there is any penalty or punishment for treason and rebellion in this country, provided the treason only embraces a State government or two. The loyal people begin to think it high time to establish a penalty.

If the old rebels and copperheads should, through President Johnson, precipitate the country into another war, the people will take care that treason shall then be made sufficiently "odious" to prevent any future re-appearance in that form. The next time it forces the people to take up arms, its authors and abettors who remain alive may make up their minds to leave their country for their country's good. There will be no more question about permitting traitors and rebels to be represented in Congress.

The Bangor Democrat, and other papers which opposed coercion of rebels during the war, and thought the victories of our armies only unwarrantable "massacres" of our southern brethren, when asked how they can now go into the same political party with men who (in the Philadelphia platform) ostensibly declare the war to have been just and righteous on our part, reply that "old things have passed away, that they have drawn a sponge over the record of the past, and now go in for union and peace." They will find that the people have drawn no sponge over their record—but that it will remain in lurid characters as lasting as Time itself, and will consign to infamy and defeat every political party which they may curse with their fatal friendship. The Johnson party is already cursed with defeat in consequence of its rebel and copperhead affiliations. That record will be worse than the shirt of Nessus for those who wear it.

THAT'S RIGHT. ALL WHO THINK ALIKE SHOULD ACT TOGETHER. The Bangor Evening Times of yesterday at last hauls down the name of General Chamberlain as its candidate for Governor and urges all its friends to vote for Eben F. Pillsbury, the Democratic candidate. It has thus gone openly at last into the camp of the copperheads, whither it has been so long tending. The Whig has uniformly classed it as a Johnson copperhead paper ever since last winter, and although it has attempted for a long time to ride horses going in opposite directions, the people of this community have had a pretty just idea of its real proclivities. It should be understood that the proprietor was never a Republican, but belonged to the old democratic party, was formerly the publisher of the Bangor Democrat, and has only been with the dominant party during the war. It is now in a more honest position than it has been for many months. It is with its proper associates. The leader of the Johnson-copperhead party in this city, Marcellus Emery, in the last number of the Democrat, ordered the Times to haul down the Chamberlain flag and run up that of Pillsbury, and it has been obediently done, with an apology for not doing it quicker.

We are pleased to see that the "proprietor of the Times" considers that "the election of Gen. Chamberlain will strengthen and confirm" the hold of the Republican party upon power—and he is therefore constrained to oppose his election. The people will now fully understand where the Times is, and it will be unnecessary for us to point out its real character for the future. The attempt to ride two horses going in different directions has landed the paper just where we predicted.

The New Orleans Riot.

The Boston Daily Advertiser says: "The correspondence relative to the New Orleans riot does not place that unhappy affair in any new light. It is perhaps plainer than ever that the action of the authorities in suppressing the convention was, as General Sheridan says, "so atrocious as to compel me "to say that it was muder," and the responsibility of the President for encouraging the attack is made even more clear than before. In its general features, however, the sad story remains the same. We ask our readers to pass in review with us briefly a few of the leading points, now unhappily established beyond doubt.

The continued intention of the local authorities to break up the convention,—which was either a legal organization or a nonentity and in either case should have been left alone,—was clearly manifested. The Mayor declared it to General Baird on the Wednesday before, General Baird notified the President on Saturday that they still had that intention, and the Lieutenant-Governor on the same day telegraphed to the President his purpose of having the members of the convention taken under process from a criminal court. The distinct understanding of the latter officer that blood must flow, is shown by his informing the President in the same despatch that "it is impossible to execute a civil process without the certainty "of a riot." In this state of public feeling General Baird telegraphed to Washington on Saturday his intention not to permit an attempt to break up the convention by arresting the delegates, and asked for instructions. The only answer to this was a despatch by the President on Monday to the Attorney General of the State, authorizing the suppression of the convention. It was placed distinctly before Mr. Johnson that the civil authorities meditated interference, and that it would produce bloodshed; the military commander sought for instructions to prevent such a disastrous result; and in the face of this warning from both sides the order went forth that the civil authorities might have military aid in this contemplated violence. A more direct encouragement of those who were bent upon the suppression of their opponents by an unlawful use of authority at any hazard cannot be imagined."

The Effect of Proscription.

The Portland Star well says: "The remarkable announcement that the war of removals is to be short, sharp and decisive, is overreaching the work. Not even the Democracy, in whose interest the Johnson men are working, unwittingly or not, feel quite sure this rude haste of the President is the best policy.

A great party elected a President and have honestly tried to stand by him. But he takes a difference as a personal affront and a declaration of war, and threatens the old time proscription. Some of the incumbents of office bow the knee and others stand out and their heads drop into the basket. There is a propriety in rewarding friends, but to approach American citizens in a thorough indiscriminate bribery and attempt to carry elections by plying the executive knife, as the President is doing is a matter that will be more generally appreciated than ever before, because it is brought about by an exigency and does not follow the slow growth and application of common periods. It certainly will awaken an animosity that it can ill afford to do, and we do not believe that the integrity of the Republican party is to be seriously threatened or endangered. We know all parties are rotten, and poor human nature is weak; but we hold that man, who now turns his coat in the face of this threat is worse than a coward. When men can honestly be convinced that they are wrong it is honorable to come out even in the face of jeering companions; but he who trims his sails now for favorable breezes, and becomes the component part of that party of beggars for office, does not deserve the confidence or respect even of Mr. Johnson himself."

A DISGUSTED DELEGATE AND A CONVERTED PAPER. The Boston Commonwealth says:

Edwin C. Bailey, Esq., of the Herald, a delegate to the Philadelphia Convention, turns his back upon that affair, terming it "the greatest farce of the season." Mr. Bailey has done much good service the past five years in strengthening the loyal war sentiment of Boston. He repudiates the Philadelphia swindle now. Why should not the Republican party recognize his services by a complimentary nomination this fall?

GEN. SHERIDAN'S DISPATCHES. It is now clear that the parties who furnished the first copy of General Sheridan's dispatch to General Grant about the New Orleans riot intentionally and willfully mutilated it in such a manner as to make it read very different from what its author intended it should read. After saying that he had intended to "arrest the head men, if the proceedings of the Convention were calculated to disturb the tranquility of the Department," General Sheridan made the following very important statement, which was entirely suppressed in the first copy of the dispatch which was published and which appears in the official copy:

"In the meantime, official duty called me to Texas, and the Mayor of the city, during my absence, suppressed the Convention by the use of their police force, and in so doing attacked the members of the Convention and a party of two hundred negroes, and with firearms, clubs and knives, in a manner so unnecessary and atrocious as to compel me to say that it was murder."

The public would like to know the author of this outrage, not only upon the gallant Sheridan, but upon the whole country. He ought to be smoked out.

—If two persons sit down and each eats a pint of strawberries, there will be a quartette.

Reception of the President at Philadelphia.

Programme for the Reception of the Loyal Southern Convention in Philadelphia.

An Outbreak among the Convicts in the Oregon Penitentiary--Eleven Escape.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 28.

The President was received by a committee of merchants and welcomed by Colonel Page, who tendered the warmest hospitalities of the citizens. The President replied thanking him, and said he knew how to appreciate the reception from the citizens of Philadelphia. I trust peace has come and that we will have a permanent peace and be conflicted by war no more forever. We have had war enough Let us now have peace. All my efforts have been directed to bringing about peace and a permanent reorganization of the government.

The President and suite were then escorted to Continental Hotel by a procession of military under General Meade, firemen, the Johnson club, office holders and cavalcade of citizens. Subsequently the procession was received by the President. At different points on the route from Baltimore there were considerable numbers of people who made demostrations of welcome to the President, General Grant and Farragut.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 28.

The committee appointed by the Union League have adopted the following order of proceedings for the reception of delegates to the Loyal Convention—

Southern delegates are invited to meet at 10 a. m Monday at Independence Square, where they will be met by delegations from other States, boys in blue and republican invincibles from this and other States and escorted to the Union League Rooms, where they will be formally welcomed by Charles Gibbons. After this the southern delegates will march to the National Hall which has been fitted up for their accommodations during the session of the convention. The citizens will provide for the accommodation of the delegates at their own houses. Union meetings are to be held every evening during the session of the Convention in front of the League House.

It has been charged that the meeting held in the Mayor's parlors Saturday evening before the riot, whereat Major General Herron was present, and that the latter had testified before the Military Commission that the attack on the Convention was planned at the meeting, and that he left the assemblage before the proceedings terminated.

To The Times, which denied its belief that he could so testify, (as it was not true), Gen Herron said that the statement was false, coming from where it may.

Some 40 merchants and professional men met at that meeting, and the result of their conclusion was to advise the white people, through a proclamation, to keep away from the Convention, and avoid any tendency to an outbreak. The Lieut. Governor also invited newspapers to urge abstinence from irritating language and conduct, which they did.

REAL ESTATE SALE. The house and furniture (No. 182 State Street) advertised by John B. Foster & Co. was sold yesterday at private sale to Messrs. P. M. Blake and F. A. Wilson, at a price, we understand, between $7000 and $8000.

CLOTHS, DRESS GOODS, &c., AT AUCTION. We call attention to the advertisement of Messrs. Adams & Johnston, No. 2 Harlow Block, of an extensive auction sale of Woolen and Cotton Cloths, Dress Goods, Silver Plated Ware, Cutlery, &c., &c., this day, commencing at 10 A. M. There is a good chance for bargains.

MORE ARRESTS FOR FRUIT STEALING.—Five boys were taken to the watch-house on Monday, locked up all night, and made to pay fines next morning for stealing fruit from the garden of Mr. Alden on French Street. The police will arrest all boys caught in such depredations.

A SHORT COURSE. A pair of oxen were stolen at Glenburn, brought to this city yesterday, and offered for sale at so low a figure that the rogue was at once arrested by the police on suspicion. In an hour or two the owner appeared, having traced his property to Bangor, and a warrant was duly obtained for the thief, who was committed for trial at the Supreme Court in default of bail to the amount of $1000.

—Attention is called to the Advertisment of $2,000 a year, in another column.

—J. B. Foster & Co. sell, at 3 o'clock this afternoon, a house and lot on Carroll Street. Any one wishing to purchase a comfortable dwelling at a low price, cannot do better than to attend the sale.

—The Times is not so wise as it thinks itself. The Whig's "local" is the same as he ever has been—the regular editor.

NEW BOOKS. "Peat and its Uses, as a Fertilizer and as Fuel," is the title of a valuable little book by Samuel W. Johnson, Professor of Chemistry in Yale College.—Published by Orange Judd, N. Y. For sale here by Bugbee & Co.

"Charley Scott, or There's Time Enough," a story for youth, designed to illustrate the evils of procrastination. Published by Henry Hoyt, Boston. For sale by Duren.

CONVICTION OF AN INCENDIARY. Before the Supreme Court yesterday, a young man named Henry Grant was convicted of setting fire to the barn of Mr. George Savage in this city a few weeks since. The evidence showed that the building was fired, as others were undoubtedly fired about that time) for the mere purpose of getting the engines out, and not from any motive of malice or desire of destroying property. It is a sad case, where folly and thoughtlessness have led a young man to absolute crime, and that of a very serious nature. He probably did not fully realize what he was doing, until awakened by his arrest to the perilous position in which he had placed himself. We trust the result of this case will prove a salutary warning to many other heedless young men and boys in our city.

—The National Convention of Universalists will be holden the present year at Peoria, Illinois, about the middle of September. Capt. Flowers, 22 West Market Square, will sell tickets to those attending the Convention by all rail to Chicago and return, for $34,00. Peoria is but a short distance from Chicago. Delegates and others proposing to attend the Convention should apply for their tickets at this agency.

—The Bangor Historical Society present their thanks for the following contributions—

Doct. A. C. Hamlin of Bangor—a piece of Indian pottery from St. Augustine, Florida; also, several Indian stone arrow heads, Georgia quartz and flint.

Gilbert Atwood, Esq. of Boston—A fine specimon of copper ore from Nova Scotia.

Mr. William A. Johnson of Bangor—A fine large specimen of Indian pottery, found near the Rippogenus Falls on the Penobscot River.

Albion P. Bradbury, Esq. of Bangor—13 numbers of the Bangor Register, printed at Bangor, June, July and August, 1820.

Mr. C. Fellows of Boston—A list of the names of persons resident in Frankfort in 1815.

S H Dale, recent Mayor of Bangor—a rebel torpedo, presented to the City of Bangor by the late Col. Spofford, and by the City Council deposited with the Bangor Historical Society.

Capt. P. W. Reed of Frankfort—Fifty-five copper and bronze coins from China; a Chinese Joss or deity, such as are worshipped by the Chinese in their shops and dwelling houses; an Indian scarf from Lord North's Island in the Pacific, made from the inner bark of trees, only article of clothing worn by the natives; an original Chinese clearance of the American ship Waverly, from Canton to New York.

Samuel A. Gilman, Esq. of Bangor—An old map of the Penobscot river and county prior to any settlements at Bangor. This map was found among the papers of the late Judge Thatcher of Biddeford, and in 1859 was sent to Leonard Jones, Esq., by Henry S. Thatcher of Northfield, Mass.

Also, an old map of Penobscot river and vicinity, made about 1780, and showing the census of this region at that time.

Forty-seven numbers of the Penobscot gazette, published at Bangor in 1825 and 1826; fifteen numbers of the Clarion or Ladies' Repository of Literature, published at Bangor in 1828; several numbers of the Independent Chronicle, published in Boston in 1816; a manuscript cook book belonging to Madame Fletcher in 1780, copied from a manuscript book belonging to Dr. Richard Richmond, late Lord Bishop of Sodor and Mann; one volume of the Albany Balance and State Journal, printed at Albany, N. Y., 1811; one volume of the Boston Weekly Magazine and Ladies' Miscellany, published at Boston, 1818; Greenleaf Map of Maine, first edition.

From Mr. Campbell of Medford, Piscataquis County—One very fine Indian stone axe; one stone axe of unusual pattern; five stone chisels; three stone gouges; seven arrow and spear heads, and several pieces of Indian pottery—all found in Medford, on the Banks of the Piscataquis River.

Bangor, Aug. 28, 1866.

MUSICAL. Attention is called to the advertisement of Mr. John Hoyt, who has been absent in Boston the past two months perfecting his already fine musical education under the best instructors of that city, will bring to his aid additional qualifications as a teacher, where he is now deservedly popular. Mr. Hoyt's pupils and friends here will be glad to know of his early return to our city.

DEATH OF REV. JOHN PIERPONT. The Boston papers announce the death of this venerable and well-known patriot. He passed to his reward probably without a struggle—having been found dead in his bed at Medford on Monday morning last. As the Journal says: It was a happy death.—His mission was performed. He had fought the good fight, and the Reaper found him near the scene of his most important labors, where, could his prayer have been uttered, he would have chosen as the place of his departure to a better world.

—A remarkable case of resuaitation is related by the Summerside (N. B.) Journal.—It was in Charlottetown, a case of suffocation where a child had its respiration suspended, for over an hour and a half. The circulation as well as respiration were restored by Dr. Johnson after a half-hour's exertion. The body had been quite black and apparently lifeless.

—A copperhead writer in the Piscataquis Observer says there is a natural ice cave on the top of Granite Mountain, in Sebec, filled with the clearest ice during the summer months.

—The Bath Times says that Rev. L. O. Hill, for several years pastor of the Franklin Street Baptist Church in Dover, N. H., has recently accepted a call to the pastorate of the Elm Street Church in that city. The Elm Street Church and Society have recently removed a debt of about forty-five hundred dollars, and thereby cleared the Parish of all pecuniary embarrassment.

—The Lewiston Journal says that the Androscoggin Mills corporation are building a new mill at the lower dam near the river, for the purpose of enlarging the capacity of their works.

—The St. Croix Courier says that the St. Andrews and St. Stephens Branch Railway Company have at length decided upon the Public Landing as a terminus. The leases have all been secured, and the construction of blocks and erection of the necessary buildings will be begun at once.

—Mr. Samuel Clagbee, a horse grower in Aroostook County, has recently sold a three years old colt for five hundred dollars.

THE AXE. More than 250 postmasters and other office holders, who dared to oppose "My Policy" in New York and Western States, were decapitated on Monday.

—The Republicans of Aroostook County have nominated Eben Woodbury of Houlton, for Senator; Daniel A. Sewall of Island Falls, for County Commissioner; P. P. Burleigh of Linneus for County Treasurer; Nathan Perry of Presque Isle for Sheriff.

—The Aroostook Times says at the close of the Union Convention of that county, Wednesday, a subscription was taken up, to aid in procuring an artificial limb for Sergeant Rafford, who suffered the loss of a leg in the war. It met with a generous response on the part of the members of the Convention, and a handsome sum was subscribed and presented to him.

THE FIRST BLOCK UP. The first block of brick stores, erected since the fire, is that on Exchange street, on the site next above the Merchants' Exchange. It is owned by Messrs. Alvah Conant and H. M. Payson. Other blocks are in a forward state, but none are quite so far completed as the one above mentioned.—[Press.

—The Sagadahoc County Union Convention met in Bath, Thursday. The following nominations were made: For Senator, F. J. Parks, Esq.; for County Treasurer, Henry M. Bovay; for Sheriff, P. R. Millay, Esq.; for County Attorney, Josiah A. Temple, Esq.; for County Commissioner, Sam'l Farnham, Esq.

We learn from the Lewiston Journal that Sheriff Parker has ferreted out the person who recently stole a trunk containing $1000 in bonds and several thousand dollars worth of papers, was stolen from the house of Capt Ebenezer Jordan in Danville. A reward of $200 was offered for the recovery of the property and detection of the thief. A short time afterward the trunk was returned to its owner by a boy who lived in the neighborhood who said he found it in an old blacksmith's shop. The papers were missing, but the bonds were still in the trunk.—The boy who is about 17 years of age proved to be the thief. The matter has been "settled" by the parties interested.

—An unlucky man went into a store in Portland, on Monday week, to purchase some molasses. The clerk started the bung to show the quality, when a two-inch stream of the thick yellow fluid burst out with tremendous force, striking the customer full in the face, and drenching him with sweetness from head to foot.

—An English stone mason was recently heard to remark: "I am not going to fight for a country where I don't own a square yard of land." That's a sermon for English statesmen.

From the Northport Camp Meeting.

CAMP GROUNDS, NORTHPORT, August 27, 1866.

Editor of Daily Whig:

Monday morning broke bright and pleasant, after the cold wet days of the last week, giving promise of a pleasant week to those whose steps are turned campmeeting-ward; and, taking advantage of a week of leisure, we took our way to Belfast by land, leaving the crowd to go by the barge, with their baggage. After tea we drove down to the camp grounds—a pleasant ride of about three miles—and found our friends in the usual unsettled state of Monday night at campmeeting, for, as those who are accustomed to attend these meetings will tell you, there is hardly time the first day to get settled and in good working trim. Those who came on the barge arrived safely and without any special incident, excepting that it being rather rough, there was a good deal sea sickness.

There are between forty and fifty tents here, from various towns near and far—from the upper Penobscot to the Lower Kennebec—with, as we should judge, an average attendance for the first day, and which will be largely increased as the week progresses. The grounds and arrangements are under the charge of Presiding Elder L. D. Wardwell, formerly of the Brick Chapel church, Bangor. Owing to the fact of not having got "settled" no regular services were held this evening, but a large social meeting was held at the stand, attended as we should judge by about 500 persons, and smaller social meetings in the different tents.

The camp ground has been so often described that your readers are already familiar with it, and we will not attempt a description. We notice, however, since we were last here, many young trees have been set out to take the place of those "girdled" and killed some years ago, by some villains unknown. The camp ground, lying as it does on the side of the hill, sloping to the eastward, with its circle of tents facing the preachers' stand, lit up by the light of numerous lanterns and camp-fires, auxilliary to the light of the rising moon, nearly at its full—which shed its radiance over land and water, making one of the finest pictures we ever had the pleasure to witness—is a most charming spot, and led a friend who was with us, and who had never visited a campmeeting before, to express the wish that he could spend the whole week, there. But as we have to return to Belfast to-night, and the tired "dwellers in tents" are anxious to to seek their much-needed repose, we will stop to write nothing farther to-night.

Birmingham, Eng., Aug. 27—Evening. The reform display in this city to-day was grand, and passed off without any disturbance of any kind, which had been to some extent apprehended. Many thousands of people were present. The platform adopted by the immense assemblage is in favor of residential manhood suffrage. John Bright delivered an address this evening in support of the platform.

Berlin Aug. 27—Evening. Information has been received here which induces the general belief that the articles of the treaty of peace signed at Prague are almost identical with the original preliminaries to peace interchanged at Nicholsburg on the 26th of July. The details of the treaty will not be made public, however, until it is ratified by all parties involved.

Vienna, Aug. 26—P. M. The Emperor Francis Joseph has determined to strengthen his Empire as well as his hold upon the affections and loyalty of his subjects by granting a new constitution and ministry to Hungary. It is announced officially that a new ministry will soon be formed for Hungary upon the basis of the constitution granted the Magyars in 1848, the revocation of which was the cause of the Hungarian revolution of 1848-9.

Paris, August 25—P. M. The Empress Carlotta will not return to Mexico, and it is conceded on all hands that the Empire in that country approaches its end. It is authoritatively announced that if additional French troops are sent to Mexico, it will be only in sufficient force to protect the interests of French subjects during the fall of the Empire, and to secure a quiet evacuation of Mexico. They will not be used to sustain the dynasty of Maximilian.

Ritchie's Liquid Compass!

THE Ritchie Compass which has been the standard Compass in the navy for upwards of four years, and also in extensive use in the merchant service, should be used on every class of vessels where a compass is to be depended on. It combines all the qualities of a perfect instrument. To extreme sensitiveness and perfect steadiness is added a strength and durability which prevents them from getting out of order like other compasses. The reason for this is apparent to any one upon examination. A single trial of this compass has always resulted in its adoption and the rejection of every other kind.

THE MUTUAL

Life Insurance Co.,

OF NEW YORK

Assets over $16,000,000!

TO meet the choice of such present or future members as may prefer to have the amount insured paid in instalments to their widows or heirs, rather than in one sum, this Company is prepared to insert in its policies a clause agreeing that in lieu of the payment of the policy and profits in one sum, an equitable amount, to be determined by the Company, may be paid annuity or semi-annually for any specified number of years, (any from five to twenty-five years,) if desired.

EXAMPLE.—Suppose a policy of $10,000, with additional amounting to $3000 more, should become payable by reason of the death of the person insured, the Company, in lieu of the payment of $15,000 in one sum, would be able to give (assuming interest as realized in the past) an annuity for ten years of over $2000 per annum, or for twenty years an annuity of over $1200 per annum.

This form of annuity will remove the anxiety which may exist in the minds of some policy-holders lest the future provision they have made for their families should be ineffectual or transitory in its duration, either through unsafe investments, unwise expenditure, or other uncertainties incidental to contingent trusts.

It is not only free from the ordinary dangers of investment, but its perpetual and full payment is secured by the LARGE AND SOLID CASH RESOURCES and good faith of this institution, which thus, to a certain extent, becomes the GUARDIAN or TRUSTEE of the survivors. Hence the provision may be considered, humanly speaking, beyond any adverse contingency.

☞ All such deferred payments or annuities will share equitably in the profits or dividends of the Company.

This Company also issues SURVIVORSHIP ANNUITIES, which provide for survivors during the whole period of life, and DEFERRED ANNUITIES, by which individuals may provide for themselves in advanced age.

Mischief Making.

Oh! could there in this world be found
Some little spot of happy ground,
Without the tattling!
How doubly blest that spot would be
Where all might dwell in liberty,
Free from the bitter misery
Of Gossip's endless prattling.

If such a spot were really known,
Dame Peace might call it as her own,
And in it she might fix her throne
Forever and forever;
There like a queen might reign and live,
While every one would soon forgive
The little slights they may receive,
And be offended never.

'Tis mischief makers that remove
Far from our hearts that warmth of love,
And lead us all to disapprove
What gives another pleasure;
They seem to take one's part; but when
They've heard our cares, unkindly then
They soon retail them again,
Mixed up with poisonous measure.

And then they've such a cunning way
Of telling ill-meant tales—they say,
"Don't mention it, I pray,
I would not tell another;"
Straight to your neighbors all they go,
Narrating everything they know,
And break the peace of high and low,
Wife, husband, friend and brother.

RULING PASSION STRONG IN DEATH.—Old Bogo was a miserly old fellow, who had accumulated great wealth by life-long penuriousness. But even misers have to die sometimes, and old Boge was at length called upon to pay that debt which all must pay, and which is paid as easily by the man who hasn't got a cent as by the possessor of millions.

Old Bogo was sick unto death, finding a partial recompense in his sufferings from the reflection that if he could not eat anything something was being saved. His physician told him that his end was rapidly approaching, and as he felt within himself that it was so, it was evident to old Bogo that he must meet his end very soon.

'How long have I to live?' asked old Boge in a faint voice.

'Only half an hour,' said the physician, taking out his watch in a business like manner, and added, 'is there any one you wish to send for—a clergyman, for instance?'

Old Boge mused in a lethargic way for a moment, raised his feeble hand felt of his emaciated chin, upon which two weeks' growth of gray and stubbed beard had grown, then whispered hurriedly—'quick—bring—me—a barber.'

The barber came with his kit, and old Boge said in a voice that was rapidly growing weaker:

'You—charge—ten—cents—to—shave—live men?'

'Yes, that is our price,' replied the barber.

'What—you charge—to shave dead men?'

'One dollar,' said the barber, wondering what he meant.

'Then—shave—me quick!' said old Boge, nervously eyeing the watch which the doctor held in his hand. He was too weak to speak further, but the doctor interpreted aright the question that was in his eyes.

'Fifteen minutes,' replied the doctor.

Old Bogo made a feeble motion as with a lather brush, and the barber was at his work in a jiffy. He performed his task with neatness and dispatch, and although the sick man had several sinking spells of an alarming nature, yet he bore up to the end. When the last stroke of the razor was given, old Boge whispered in tones of satisfaction: 'That'll do—ninety—cents—saved!' and immediately expired.

CROAKERS.—An eccentric lawyer, named Burgess, many years ago lived in a New England village, and became quite famous for his 'skeptical notions.' Attending a town meeting, after its adjournment he lingered among the groups of substantial farmer deacons who composed it, and listened to the prevailing conversation. The bad weather, the fly, the rot, the drouth and the wet were duly discussed, when some one turned to Burgess, and said:

'How comes on your garden?'

'I never plant anything,' replied Burgess, with a solemn face, 'I am afraid over to put a potato in the ground.'

'It's no wonder,' groaned one of the most eminently pious persons present; 'for a man who does not believe in revealed religion could not expect to have his labors blessed.'

'I am not afraid of failing in my work,' said Burgess, 'but I am afraid that agricultural work would make me profane. If I planted a single potato, what would have been the result? Why, I should get up in the morning, look about me, and growl—It is going to rain, and it will ruin my potato! Then I should in dry weather, say—'The drouth will kill my potato;' then I should be unhappy because the rot might destroy my potato: in fact, gentlemen,' continued Burgess, in a solemn manner, 'I should be afraid to do anything that would induce me constantly to distrust Providence.'

The reproof was keenly felt by many present, and for months afterwards the farmers, with a fear of Burgess before their eyes talked of the blessings, rather than the evils attending their daily labor.

VENTILATING CHILDREN'S ROOMS.—Most parents, before retiring to rest, make it a duty to visit the sleeping room of their children. They do so in order to be satisfied that the lights are extinguished, and that no danger is threatening their little ones. But if they leave the room with closed windows and doors, they shut in as great an enemy as fire, although his ravages may not be so readily detected. Poison is there, but slow and deadly.

Morning after morning do many little children wake weary, fretful and oppressed. 'What does it mean?' 'What can it be?' the mother askes. In despair she has recourse to medicine. The constitution becomes enfeebled, and the child gets worse.

The cause perhaps is never traced to overcrowded sleeping-rooms, without proper air, but it is nevertheless the right one. An intelligent mother, having acquainted herself with the principles of ventilation, will not retire to her own room for the night without having provided sufficiency of air for her children, in the same manner that she provides and regulates their night covering or any other requisite for refreshing slumber.

Young Man! Are you waiting for some door to open into a broad and useful future? Don't wait. Select the door and pry it open even though you get your fingers pinched.

A little boy disputing with his sister on some subject, exclaimed, 'It's true, for ma says it's so; and if ma says it's so, it's so, if it ain't so.'

A victim of sea-sickness describes the sensation thus: 'The first hour I was afraid I should die: and the second I was afraid I shouldn't.'

It is not what we eat, but what we digest, that makes us strong. It is not what we earn, but what we save that makes us rich. It is not what we read, but what we remember, that makes us learned. It is not what we profess, but what we practice, that makes us righteous.

It is more noble to make yourself great than to be born so.

In jealousy there is no more love of self than of any one else.

Humility is the low but broad and deep foundation of every virtue.

Wise sayings often fall to the ground, but a kind word is never thrown away.

A negro, with red hair and whiskers, is one of the lions of Mobile.

On the journey of life he who overloads himself with baggage, will sigh by the way.

LIFE AND ITS END. Remember for what purpose you were born, and through the whole of life look at its end. Consider when that comes in what will you put your trust. Not in the bubble of worldly vanity—it will be broken: not in worldly pleasures—they will be gone; not in great connections—they cannot serve you; not in wealth—you cannot carry it with you; nor in rank—in the grave there is no distinction; not in the recollections of a life spent in giddy conformity to the fashions of a thoughtless and wicked world; but in a life spent soberly, righteously and wisely, in the present world.

A cooper who was in need of hoop-poles beset a man to furnish him with some. 'Where'll I get 'em?' questioned the man. 'Anywhere! steal 'em if you can't do any better.' The hoop-poles were furnished and paid for, when the cooper happened to inquire of the seller where he got them. 'Stole 'em, as you told me to,' was the answer. 'Where did you steal 'em?' 'Oh, up in your woods,' returned the man, jingling his profits.

All kinds of herbs should be gathered on a dry day, just before or while in blossom. Tie them in bundles, and suspend them in a dry, airy place, with the blossoms downward. When perfectly dry, wrap the medicinal ones in paper and keep them from the air. Pick off the leaves of those which are to be used in cooking, pound and sift them fine, and keep the powder in bottles, corked up tight. Dr. Page, of Washington, D. C., says that herbs should be bruised or crushed while in the green state, and then dried. When so treated they retain their color and odor for a great length of time.

ALWAYS IN SESSION. There was a very irrasible old gentleman who formerly held the position of Justice of the Peace in one of our cities. Going down the main street one day, one of the boys spoke to him without coming up to his honor's idea of deference. 'Young man, I fine you five dollars for contempt of Court.' 'Why, Judge,' said the offender, 'you are not in session.' 'This Court,' responded the Judge, thoroughly irriated, 'is always in session, and consequently is always an object of contempt!' There was disorder in the Court as his honor passed on.

THE KIDNEYS.

The kidneys are two in number, situated at the upper part of the loin, surrounded by fat and consisting of three parts, viz.: The Anterior, the Interior, and the Exterior.

The anterior absorbs. Interior consists of tissues or veins, which serve as a deposit for the urine and convey it to the exterior. The exterior is a conductor also, terminating in a single tube and called the Ureter. The ureters are connected with the bladder.

The bladder is composed of various coverings or tissues, divided into parts, viz.: the Upper, the Lower, the Nervous and the Mucous. The upper expels, the lower retains. Many have a desire to urinate without the ability, others urinate without the ability to retain. This frequently occurs in children. To cure these affections we must bring into action the muscles which are engaged in their various functions. If they are neglected, Gravel or Dropsy may ensue.

The reader must also be made aware, that however slight may be the attack, it is sure to affect his bodily health and mental powers; as our flesh and blood are supported from these sources.

GOUT, OR RHEUMATISM.

Pain occurring in the loins is indicative of the above disease. They occur in persons disposed to acid stomach and chalky concretions.

THE GRAVEL.

The gravel ensues from neglect or improper treatment of the kidneys. These organs being weak, the water is not expelled from the bladder, but allowed to remain; it becomes feverish and sediment forms. It is from this deposit that the stone is formed and gravel ensues.

DROPSY.

Is a collection of water in some parts of the body, and bears different names, according to the parts affected, viz.; when generally diffused over the body, it is called Anasarca; when of the abdomen, Ascites; when of the chest, Hydrothorax.

TREATMENT.

Helmbold's highly concentrated compound Extract Buchu is decidedly one of the best remedies for diseases of the bladder, kidney, gravel, dropsical swellings, rheumatism, and gouty affections. Under this head we have arranged Dysuria, or difficulty and pain in passing water, scanty secretion or small and frequent discharges of water, Strangury or stopping of water, Hematuria or bloody urine, Gout and Rheumatism of the kidneys, without any change in quantity, but increase of color or dark water. It was always highly recommended by the late Dr. Physick, in these affections.

This medicine increases the power of digestion and excites the absorbents into healthy exercise, by which the watery or calcareous depositions and all unnatural enlargements, as well as pain and inflammation, are reduced, and is taken by

MEN, WOMEN, AND CHILDREN.

Directions for use and diet accompany.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., February 25, 1857.

H. T. HELMBOLD, Druggist.

Dear Sir: I have been a sufferer, for upwards of twenty years, with gravel, bladder, and kidney affections, during which time I have used various medicinal preparations, and been under the treatment of the most eminent physicians, experiencing but little relief.

Having seen your preparations extensively advertised, I consulted with my family physician in regard to using your Extract Buchu.

I did this because I had used all kinds of advertised remedies, and had found them worthless, and some quite injurious; in fact, I despaired of ever getting well, and determined to use no remedies hereafter unless I knew of the ingredients. It was this that prompted me to use your remedy. As you advertised that it was composed of buchu, cubebs, and juniper berries, it occurred to me and my physician as an excellent combination, and, with his advice, after an examination of the article, and consulting again with the druggist, I concluded to try it. I commenced its use about eight months ago, at which time I was confined to my room. From the first bottle I was astonished and gratified at the beneficial effect, and after using it three weeks was able to walk out. I felt much like writing you a full statement of my case at that time, but thought my improvement might only be temporary, and therefore concluded to defer and see if it would effect a perfect cure, knowing then it would be of greater value to you and more satisfactory to me.

I am now able to report that a cure is effected after using the remedy for five months.

I have not used any now for three months, and feel as well in all respects as I ever did.

Your Buchu being devoid of any unpleasant taste and odor, a nice tonic and invigorator of the system, I do not mean to be without it whenever occasion may require its use in such affections.

BARRETT'S

THE

Is creating a sensation among the friends of those who have had their gray hair restored to its youthful color, and those whose bald heads have been covered with a luxuriant growth of hair. It so changes and improves their looks that intimate acquaintances scarcely recognize each other. For sale by druggists, of whom circulars can be obtained containing testimony to prove what we have intimated.

Home Proof.

MR. BARRETT:

DEAR SIR,—Having used a bottle of your "VEGETABLE HAIR RESTORATIVE" after having tried many other kinds without success, I am happy to accord to it the ne plus ultra of ALL Hair Preparations in the world, and do myself sincerely and cheerfully recommend it to the public as such.

Yours, &c., JOHN FRANKLIN,
No. 6 Tremont street, Boston.

Testimony from Abroad.

Messrs. J. R. BARRETT & Co:

I was induced by a friend to make a trial of BARRETT'S VEGETABLE HAIR RESTORATIVE, and I am very much pleased with the effect it has had on my hair. I was nearly half gray, and now, before using one bottle, my head is freed from dandruff, and my hair has all the appearance of youth. I fully believe BARRETT'S to be the best Hair Preparation in the world.

Liver Complaints, Scrofula or King's Evil, Eruptions, and all Eruptive Diseases of the Skin, St. Anthony's Fire, Salt Rheum, Pimples, Pustules, Blotches and Boils; Rheumatic and Neuralgic Pains in the Bones, Side and Head; for the various Weaknesses to which Females are liable; Dyspepsia, Debility, Emaciation, Dropsy, and all diseases resulting from or in an impure state of the Blood.

IT is invaluable to Nervous Sufferers, and a positive cure for Palsy arising from the abuse of Mercury or Lead.

It is a Tonic as well as an Alterative, and a sure protection from attacks that originate in change of climate, season or life.

LIVER COMPLAINTS and their combined symptoms, such as Lumbago, Jaundice, Rheumatism, Bilious Eruptions, &c. When caused by Scrofula taint, this compound is a most effectual remedy.

DYSPEPSIA or INDIGESTION, is often caused by Scrofula, which deranges the stomach, and renders it unhealthy. Indigestion is not always caused by Scrofula, when it is, this Sarsaparilla Compound is a ready cure.

NEURALGIA, HEADACHE and various disorders of the nervous system frequently arise from a low state of the constitutional health, and are much relieved and often cured by this powerful remedy.

ERYSIPELAS, Boils, Tumors, or Salt Rheum, Ulcers, Sores, &c. Moderate doses three times a day will usually effect the cure of the above complaints, but often requires considerable time.

Oriental Hair Restorer.

After a long series of experiments, this article, as it is now offered to the public, is believed to be the most perfect of its kind which science has ever devised. No pains have been spared to produce what has so long been demanded by thousands, who, from sickness or other causes, have become prematurely grey; and others, who, in the sere and yellow leaf of life, would retain, as far as possible, the semblance of youth. DR. KNIGHTS' ORIENTAL HAIR RESTORER, after a few applications, restores grey or faded hair to its original color, and is the only preparation of the kind upon which the public can place any reliance. It has never been known to fail in a single instance, and is totally unlike the thousand and one so-called Hair Restorers, by which so many have been egregiously deceived.

It is delightfully perfumed, gives the hair a rich and glossy appearance, promotes its luxuriant growth, and will not soil the skin, scalp, or any article of apparel.
